
COMBINED ARMS CENTER ANNUAL RESEARCH INDEX–2004

A SPECIAL EDITION OF MILITARY REVIEW

COMBINED ARMS CENTER, FORT LEAVENWORTH, KANSAS

Military Review

1 August 2005

FROM THE EDITOR IN CHIEF, MILITARY REVIEW

This research and publication index has been compiled to assist persons conducting research on issues that have been examined in some degree of sophistication by faculty and students associated with the Combined Arms Center (CAC). It provides a guide for finding unclassified documents on topics of contemporary concern to the military as specified in directed research by the CAC Commander, or otherwise approved by directors of the agencies affiliated with CAC who sponsor research. It is being distributed as a product of Military Review to give this research wide exposure through the already-established Military Review distribution system.

Though intended to be a useful aid to researchers, this index should not be viewed as a comprehensive guide to all research conducted by CAC during 2004. For example, it does not list items involving CAC research published in documents not sponsored by CAC, nor does it list CAC classified or For Official Use Only (FOUO) studies. Information regarding these other types of research may be obtained by contacting the individual agencies affiliated with CAC. This index should be viewed as a comprehensive guide to unclassified CAC research that is available to military researchers and to the public, though some restrictions may apply in getting access. In most cases, copies of the documents noted in this index may be obtained directly off the CAC webpage, or by contacting the CAC sponsoring agency using contact numbers obtained directly from directories on the CAC website.

"You … have a most important responsibility, to recognize that your education is just beginning, and to be prepared, in the most difficult period in the life of our country, to play the role that the country hopes and needs and expects from you. You must understand not only this country but other countries. You must know something about strategy and tactics and logistics, but also economics and politics and diplomacy and history. You must know everything you can know about military power, and you must also understand the limits of military power. You must understand that few of the important problems of our time have, in the final analysis, been finally solved by military power alone. …Woodrow Wilson reminded your predecessors that you were not serving a government or an administration, but a people. In serving the American people, you represent the American people and the best of the ideals of this free society. Your posture and your performance will provide many people far beyond our shores, who know very little of our country, the only evidence they will ever see as to whether America is truly dedicated to the cause of justice and freedom."
